Children should be taught to save, and the greatest assistance you can give them in learning to save is a Savings Account in their name.

PERSONALITIES

FRANK J. SULLIVAN, who for years has been prominently identified with the Honolulu postoffice, and who resigned his position as superintendent of the city delivery department to accept an offer coming from the Bureau of Posts at Manila, was the recipient of a pleasing demonstration and farewell from a delegation of friends yesterday afternoon preceding the sailing of the transport Logan for Manila. "Sully" looked up conspicuous as the only lei-bedecked man to line the rail of the troopship as the vessels steamed away from the wharf.

CAPE COD CANAL IS NOW HALF DONE

May Be Ready for Formal Opening in Summer of 1913

BOSTON, Mass., Mar. 24.—If present progress continues in the construction of the Cape Cod canal, and it is half done now, the work will be completed by the end of another winter.

The engineers say that many of their hardest problems have been solved. Backers of the plan, headed by August Belmont of New York, are sure of ultimate success and declare that under no circumstances will they desire the government to acquire the canal.

Chief Engineer William Barclay Parsons says:

"The work on the breakwater and the rip-rapping of the canal will be resumed early in April and we expect that work will be begun during the coming summer in construction of the bridges."

On Tuesday of last week, the State authorities gave us permission to issue $150,000 additional bonds and the same amount of stock for work up to January 1, when it was estimated that 47 per cent of the canal had been completed. We have hopes, therefore, or formally opening the canal in the summer of 1913.

ATTACKED BY TURTLE. RIDES IT TO SHORE

W. J. Conners' Brother-in-Law Conquers Sea Monster After Fifteen-Minute Struggle.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 24.—John Jordan of Buffalo, a guest of William J. Conners, his brother-in-law, was attacked while bathing at noon by one of the largest turtles ever seen here, and for fifteen minutes, while he tried to defend himself, was threatened with bodily injury and perhaps death by drowning.

He escaped with bites on the arms and legs, which are not considered serious.

A turtle has never been known to attack a man in these waters. Mr. Jordan entered the water alone in front of the Conners residence and was swimming two hundred feet from shore when the turtle rose under him, striking at him with its head. To save himself Mr. Jordan jumped on its back.

The turtle swam for deep water and dove, unseating its rider. Coming to the surface it again struck at him viciously. Unable to swim away Jordan again climbed to the turtle's back and using his feet as a rudder and holding to the flippers he steered it toward shore.

Meantime Miss Alice Conners, seeing his plight from the shore, summoned two Japanese servants, who rushed out with a clothes line, forming a noose, which they got over the turtle's head after a struggle in which both were bitten. The turtle measured five and a half feet in diameter.
